Howdy,

We're excited that you're considering sponsoring Texas Linux Fest 2027. We've been having Texas Linux Fest for 17 years and are delighted how it has grown into a gem on the Linux conference calendar. This year we are returning to Austin on September 17-18 at the Commons Conference Center on the J.J. Pickle Research Campus of University of Texas Austin.

We are continuing with our successful formula of having a weekday session with workshops (Friday September 17th) and then a weekend day with four tracks of speakers (Saturday September 18th). We expect to have engaging talks covering Linux on the server (from home to cloud to Kubernetes), the desktop, and IoT (Raspberry Pi). Both days we're planning to have an event space full of vendors and community partners in the commons. Providing a highly visible place for sponsors to interact with attendees.

If you decide to sponsor you'd be joining the ranks of organizations that have previously sponsored TXLF like: Linux Academy, Red Hat, cPanel, Datadog, Linode, Rackspace, Google, Gitlab, HP and many others.

Texas Linux Fest 2025 had about 400 attendees and we're expecting about the same number this year.

As a community run conference we are thankful to all our sponsors to ensure that we continue to keep Texas Linux Fest available at a reasonable cost to the entire Linux community. Continuing to bring new voices into the community makes it stronger and by sponsoring TXLF you can help make that happen.

Thank you,

Texas Linux Fest 2027 Staff
